Description of Incident	Biennium Completed	Qtr Completed
email from Eric Muller: Hello Jerry and Deputy Baker, I regret to say that another small boat has appeared across the small channel from the sailboat I recently reported to you in the Vancouver Lake. The coordinates would be 100 yards North of the sailboat. It is now obvious that this is the dumping ground for someone in the area. This little red boat, approximately 16' had almost all hardware removed including any previous outboard. There is no fuel cell visible and no oil or sheen at the site. What makes this odd, is that it also still has the registration #'s on the bow. You guys know this is rare, and the sailboat was the same. I took pictures and have attached. The registration number is: (b) (6) It is well into the reeds at this time, and likely will stay in that position.	13-15	1

Blue trimaran was green with moss & very soft, posted with pre-custody notice on 4-25-07. Formerly in Port Hadlock with squatters on board. 9/18/08 got a report that stuff is starting to fall off the boat and it's hulls are open. So I moved it from a 2B to a 1D. 9/24/08 Jodi posted the vessel. It had a phone number on side

Vessel abandoned at Pleasant Harbor Marina. 1969 Fairliner

Vessel beached in windstorm on Oct 18. USCG responded. Owner removed from beach on 10/26 but vessel was then taking on water.

Attempt to locate owner. Left message with possible relatives on 10/7. Sent pre custody letter 10/14. Referred to collections 4/23/2012 Case Closed

City of Tacoma almost took custody of this vessel in November 2003, but owner came and removed it just before the official custody date. As of March 2004, the vessel sits off Maury Island in trespass. Reprioritized as a 3B based on field investigation w/ drop camera on 4/20/05. Vessel is shading eelgrass bed landward of its current mooring location.	11-13	7
Two dry docks on site. One is sunk in 24' of water. The second is afloat and moored primarily to decaying dolphins and secondarily to the sunken dry docks. Located in the Quendall Terminals old leasehold. The sunken vessel may rest on a CERCLA site that has PAH contamination and woodwaste on the bedlands. Owner has been identified as (b) (6), however, former owner is (b) (6) (owner of tug that sunk in Nav. channel near Shilshole). Owner issues are complex and sale to (b) (6) may be invalid. See file, especially e-mail correspondence, for details.

Owner can not be reached. Having Ballard Dive and Salvage remove vessel from its location and store at their yard. DNR is taking temporary possession. Ballard unable to easily remove. DNR posted vessel with intent to obtain custody (14FEB13)

Ballard Dive and Salvage raised and removed this sunken vessel from the mouth of the Flushing Channel. They took it to their Camas Compound while DNR waits to gain custody (26APR13).

Clark County Sheriff posted this vessel on 11MAY13 with intent to gain custody Vessel was abandoned at boat ramp. Last registered owner has been deceased for 10 years.

Very beat up, neglected runabout washed up against the sheet wall driven around the Davy Crocket. DNR removed under public nuisance/debris removal RCW 7.48.140.	09-11	2

The boat is not 30' off shore as stated, it is very near shore in shallow water.
Visited this vessel on 22FEB13 confirmed GPS coordinates as 45.50.40/122.46.63. It is sunk in shallow water near mouth of flushing channel and Columbia River.	11-13	8
Just a heads up. One of our local transients who lives on his boat sunk it last night along our shoreline - just upstream of the Interstate 5 bridge. He has no money to get it out and I'm not sure what he's going to do. He has a friend that is going to "help him" and try and fix it. It's secured to the shore with a line as of this morning. Here is his information. He has a cell number but needs to purchase more minutes. He may or may not be able to take a call. Vessel is a purple/black 25' 1967 Owens. Last registration number is (b) (6)	11-13	8
I'll send you a photo when I can. We may have take possession of it as a hazard if it breaks free.

USCG did a flyover, vessel beached, owner made attempts to remove it but it subsequently burned.

This is a 1933 Jensen, 25 ton mahogany vessel. The navy was the original owner, then the USCG owned it for a few months until it went up for auction, it's current owner is (b) (6)

Vessel has been moved around the bay for the last two years tied to old pilings. It was previously evicted from the marina

Had vessel removed from water and destroyed by Ballard Dive and Salvage compound in Washougal WA.

Vessel in dry storage.
This is a white catamaran that has no sails nor mast. It has been abandoned at anchor for over 5 + years. I do not believe that it has an engine. This boat hull was just dropped here at anchor years ago and no one ever goes to it. It has much sea growth on the hull and could sink at any time in a storm. You can't miss this boat.
This vessel is in the harbor without permission. He is not allowed on port property by court order. The owner has made threats to Port Admin Bldg. 11/2011--Went adrift and USCG secured to a mooring buoy. Land Manager Jeff Schreck sent trespass notice to owner on 11/22/2011.	11-13	3
The owner was supposedly living on the vessel until it beached during a Dec 14-15, 2008 storm. Owner then received a boat (CM09-006) from a woman who was later declared incompetent by her family.	07-09	8
The owner is transient and currently in Clallam County Jail. The vessel is anchored without permission. Vessel became adrift on 2/27/09. USCG towed to port.	07-09	8
This vessel is anchored in harbor without permission. Vessel hit beach on 2/26/09.	07-09	8

Disposed of at Vancouver Landfill facility 12FEB13.

17APR13, vessel was disposed of at Vancouver landfill by DNR and Ecology. Case closed.

The last registered owner of OR 626 EJ was (b) (6) Astoria, OR 97103. He sent a note into the Marine Board saying he sold the boat in 2009, but he did not provide a name. The boat was never titled or registered by the new owner. I found this phone number online for (b) (6) after presenting to Cowlitz County Public works we(Cornell/Piesch) received a report of an abandoned vessel on Cottonwood Island in the Columbia River. The vessel was described as bright blue and on the shore. I (Ben Cornell) observed the vessel on the blue vessel on the shore while driving back to the VFO from Cowlitz. It was decided that we would take the boat out to make sure the vessel was not leaking on 1/17/2013.
Vessel owner recently purchased another vessel ("Mamala") which is now rafted alongside Northern Retriever. DNR (Welker) sent U&O letter Sept 2007 and is pursuing a trespass action.	09-11	2

Per Robin: I have had two people request to purchase the boat for one dollar – and they plan to take it out of here. One of them wants us to pay them to take it. Not sure what to do. The Port's maintenance staff has to pump it off at least three times a year. We have had some issues of people breaking into it . April 2011 vessel is listing and needs pumping. Vessel is a threat to the port. Upgraded priority from 5 to 2A. Vessel sold. Case closed 6/21/2012.

Sent to collections.

Cost recovery was not possible due to bankruptcy filing and discharge of debtor. Case closed 6/1/2011.

Per Robin: This boat was sold and seized. While this boat is abandoned, not sure how long before it becomes derelict and danger of sinking. The name of the owner was Sitkin Island Inc. (b) (6) was one of the principles in the bankruptcy. We sold the boat in the foreclosure process and the new owner (b) (6). We seized the boat, and sold it again to a man named (b) (6). Subsequently we seized the boat once more, and now it is once again in our hands.	11-13	2
Per Robin: This vessel has been seized, paid, seized, sold, and seized again. We are unable to locate the owner. The boat sank before the foreclosure process could be finished. When the boat was being taken out of the water at the boat launch it fell apart.	09-11	1
Per Robin: This boat was sold, new owner took it out of the water only to have the trailer break down. He left the boat in the marina boat launch parking and stripped it. Previous owner never let the Port know that he had sold the vessel.	09-11	1

USCG removed 600 gallons of fuel from vessel before it sank.

Inspection by Ecology Spill Response. No release observed. The vessel was left at its location despite temporary grounding on the substrate. SPU took possession of vessel on 6/6/08 and on 6/11 the vessel was stolen.

USCG raised the sunken vessel and removed the petroleum vessel has been recovered and placed into storage at the South Park Marina. Temporary possession letter will be mailed out on 10/2/08 to the owner's last know addresses.

Vessel has been recovered and placed into storage at the South Park Marina. Thereis no known owner at this time.

The Fauntleroy Ferry staff attached the vessel to a buoy in the area in order to keep it out of the channel

Fuel recovered by Global through DOE and CG

Fire Department responded to a sinking boat this morning and secured it, placing booms around to contain the fuel spilled. FD contacted Dept. of Ecology (Chris Wilkerson) who arrived and spoke to the boat's owner, (b) (6) :. DOE gave the boat owner 24 hours to float or remove the boat. If the boat is not removed or floating by then, DOE will take care of it and charge the owner for the costs, plus some fines.

The owner had a salvager working on it, but it has not moved for a month and it appears to be abandoned and sunk. The vessel is illegally moored off of City of Seattle property and has been pumped out enough for the vessel to float again. No inspection of the hull has been performed so there is no guarantee that the vessel has been sufficiently patched.

2/8/13 Nunga nunga nue, handbuilt trimaran. Owner (b) (6) has been long term moorage customer but vessel is in poor shape and they terminated moorage because he didn't meet insurance requirements. They have been going through seizure process but (b) sold/gave to Alaska fisherman. (b) tried to file a bill of sale after the fact, then Alaska person didn't register the vessel. Alaska owner took a bunch of stuff off the boat, sold outboard (b) then went to the guys house and took all of the stuff back and then (b) went to DOL (b) then gifted the vessel to a second person. Second person had until 5pm today to remove the vessel from port. They are going through process as derelict. New Owner: out of Tacoma purchased it or was given it. 1978, 40+ feet. Gray colored. They did pump the pontoons last week. He went on it Wed. Nothing on it. 2/12/13: Nunga Nunga Nue owner lived at Dillan Docks. Port of Seattle posted it for custody Friday night. Owner came on Sunday with a trailered bayliner, last two days he has been rafting them together. He parked van & trailer in his parking lot illegally. He moved household goods, dresser, moved on board. He plans to tie both vessels to a buoy in commencement bay. 18' bayliner in between 35-40' catamaran. No steering in vessel. Coming out of shilshole. They will call USCG when vessel leaves to give them a head's up. 2/19/13 I spoke with Richard this morning. "They won't let him use the boat ramp. Waves beat up the trimaran. Storm came. They paid to take the mast down. He has no idea what he is going to do. He bought this to replace the piner point vessel. He was taking it to someplace safe. Lakewood address is probably best to get ahold of him, that is his girlfriend's house. He is not thinking too well. He slept in the car. Bayliner went under when waves drowned the bayliner and the pontoon. Motor has been drowned. They won't let him use his boat ramp to get it. It is supposed to be durable (hull). He can waive over custody. "
this vessel is sunk under the net pens in Dockton, Quartermaster Harbor, King County. I will post the photos and underwater videos we took of the sunken vessel on Sharepoint. I'm forwarding one vid that clear shows (and narrates) the open, rusted hulk - we estimated its length up to 80 feet. I'm hoping you have some available DVRP funds this biennium to help us remove this in coordination with our removal of the floating netpen structure above it. The most simple approach may be to issue a separate contract through DES and give contractors the opportunity to bid on it once the net pen is removed.	13-15	2
Vessel was adrift in Liberty Bay, headed toward public lands. Port intervened to prevent a hazardous situation. Vessel removed and disposed March 2, 2003.

DESTROYED

Bainbridge Island Marina

Posted for custody 5/12/06.

Vessel removed from public dock area by Port of Bremerton. 5/30/07 (b) (6) said vessel has been removed

Vessel was auctioned for $50

Kitsap County removed from beach vessel was towed into Eagle Harbor. Hs crashed into two other vessels brought in and left at anchor, dragged anchor

Vessel was found adrift near Blake Island by tribal police and they towed it and tied it a buoy at Blake Island SP. Blake Island state park found the owner through some paperwork on board. They reportedly towed it to Manchester at the owner's request.

Vessel is sunken between Arrow Point and 800 yds. north of Battle Point on Bainbridge I. Neighbors are concerned as it is a popular passage for float planes, skiers, boaters. The mast is visible at lower tides. Vessel is 300 yards offshore. Vessel is extreme hazard. Mast height approx. 30'.	05-07
Owner is Misidentified as IS05-005, corrected 4/24/06.	05-07

USCG reported vessel to DNR on 10/4/07 (PO Rollins)

Vessel was adrift near Port of Brownsville Marina. Marina picked it up. Vessel has been stripped of all identifying marks.

DVRP 12/07 to auction (auction will be complete in 2007 or early 2008)

Reported to Kitsap County DCD. Update 4/21/08: Police Dept towed the vessel to Thompson Pile Driving, owner wants it back, he has until May 9th to reimburse the city.

Rescuing vessel - BIPD, stewards, other boaters. Owner not on vessel since September 2007.

DNR had a company go out and patch boat, pump, refloat and taken to South Park Marina. 10/13/2011-PAID IN FULL---Case Closed Vessel went adrift 8/17/08 in Kitsap county. Went soft aground on Bainbridge Island at (b) (6), 98110 about 50 yds offshore. Vessel is sunk but visible above water at most tides. USCG responded and Global removed paint can--no recoverable fuel. They may have marked it with a buoy for navigation purposes.

Vessel sunk in the Port of Brownsville Marina, the vessel has been raised and is stored in the upland storage until custody date.

Flew helicopter over checking for oil on water - none found.

Melissa received a call from PO Rollins, USCG Incident Management Division, 206-217-6066, regarding a potential chronic derelict vessel collector who is stripping and dumping vessels in Appletree Cove, located South of Kingston, Kitsap County. There are reportedly five vessels, two recently sunk. One sunken vessel is 90% submerged but has visible WN#s and reported to be a 23-25' Chris Craft. Vessel owner's name is . USCG notified Port of Kingston 360-297-3545. (b) contacted the Port and confirmed ownership of two of the vessels. Claims to be raising one. Port to verify other boats and probably has more information. I contacted Steve Mount at Kitsap County Code Enforcement 360-337-4605 and he will look into it. Much of Appletree Cove appears to be in private ownership but I'm not sure where these boats are. Steve will get location and let me know.	07-09	3

Reported to Kitsap county code enforcement on 6/3/09. Steve Mount will follow up.

Vessel dragged anchor and was towed into shallow water by Bainbridge Is PD.

Started the DVRP process in 2007 with (b) (6) other boat.

DNR hired Vessel Assist in Bremerton to haul the boat out to a storage yard.

USCG paid to raise vessel & remove fuel.

They have been continually coming loose from their anchorage, and always tied together. They have been adrift 8-10 times now and keep drifting into different places. Both vessels are very old and beat up. They have several holes and broken pieces all over (above the water line so far). I have only been able to find identifying information on one of them. That vessel is current on the registration (b) (6). However, I have tried countless times over the past couple of months to contact the owner without success. I have left countless messages with no response. We are unable to get a hold of a responsible party to come take care of these vessel. So far, they have drifted into two different marinas causing minor damage. It seems that the owner may have discarded these vessels and cannot be located. GPS coordinates for the two vessels are N47.73726, W122.65765 & N47.73937, W122.65575 Both are lying on their sides during low tide conditions & appear to be abandoned. One has a couple of bottles of cleaning supplies inside.	11-13	2

Received a phone call this morning from (b) (6) regarding our mystery boat the Altair. He said he received my letter and he was surprised to hear that the boat had been abandoned in Poulsbo, WA. He was curious as to what documents were found on the boat that identified him as the possible owner. I told him we found an old radio license with his name on it. (b) said that he bought the boat in 1976 and had it moored in VA. He was stationed in the Navy at that time and had the boat for about 5 years. At some point he was transferred to Washington DC and he had the boat moved to Quantico, VA. He sold the boat around 1981 to a Navy Lt. (he can't remember his name), who was stationed in the area. The new owner said he planned on moving the boat to the west coast. (b) said it has been over 30 years and he has no paperwork to show that he owned or sold the boat. He was sad to hear the boat was abandon.

Owner removed after settling with DNR through the Pollutions Control Hearing Board.

Ecology assessed vessel for haz mat and spill threat. Tanks are empty. Battery and propane tanks removed.

USCG responded on 12/14/07 and removed 20 gallons of fuel. Vessel is tied to private buoy and is being pumped by the buoy owner.

Mason County Sheriff received calls that vessel had pulled up its mooring buoy and was dragging towards a waterfront deck. When they launched their boat they found that a citizen had already caught the boat and tied it up to the Hoodsport public dock at the Port of Hoodsport. Deputy Baty was going to try to contact the owner. Vessel eventually went adrift and ended up aground at the Hamma Hamma Oyster Company. Case closed, sent to collections 10/2011

Vessel sunk at park's dock on 11/29/09. They tried to contact the owner and owner was not interested in getting vessel. Previously salvaged by Vessel Assist last week.

The owner () hired a dive team and raised the boat on his own. He said the drain plug in the back wasn't covered which caused the boat to sink. It is now afloat and moored to a buoy. There was no fuel or hazardous materials on board.

Vessel listed as "Atlanta Boat Works" and "Model#9-ten". Vessel had sunk and was recovered by the Port. It was cut up and landfilled. No registration or hull-numbers were found and the vessel owner could not be located.
Vessel was in danger of sinking and was taken into temporary possession by the Port to prevent this. Custody proceedings were then initiated. The registered owner had sold it and the new owner hadn't re-registered it. The previous owner had filed a sellers report with DOL.

Port has hauled boat out.

2 vessels. One is wedged between pilings and is completely out of the water. The other is tied up to the end piling and is sunk. Roughly 1/2 of the 2nd vessel is above water. Last spring, the vessel wedged in the trees came free and a 21' bayliner drifted up on a private beach on SW end of Harstene. Directly east of south end of Squaxin. It didn't have a lower unit. Some damage to deck. Appeared to be abandoned. Mason county deputy checked on it. Registered owner of vessel is deceased. They took battery out. Motor still in it and built in gas tank. But last round of king tides it capsized, now upside down. Doesn't know if there is oil or gas out there. It was windy and big waves when he was down there. He doesn't have the registration with him. Tides from boston harbor bring stuff to him. 1765 Burgandy Rd East, Shelton is nearest address. Not accessible from land. He doesn't have registration. He wasn't worried about it while it was right side up. He thinks it will float once righted. No holes in hull except where outdrive was. It was wedged up between trees but now down the beach a ways.	11-13	7
Port didn't follow the process laid out in 79.100 for notices, so could not apply for reimbursement. Owner, (b) (6), was invoiced. Michal R had talked with (b) and told him individuals could not apply to the fund, that the requests had to come from authorized entities. SLW, Jan 12th 04

The Sea Pearl was stipped and left in the Port. It nearly sank on approx 12 occasions. The USCG twice came out to assist in pumping the vessel as it was sinking. The Portland MSO inspected the vessel for fluids and asbestos before a dire-training permit was issued for demolition of the vessel. The vessel was towed onto the mud flats for demolition; the port cleaned up the debris.
Vessel has been at the port since 1999 with a blown engine. The owner has been promising to move it since 2001. The vessel is large and neglected. The Port has no idea on hull integrity but judging from overall neglected condition, it is probably deteriorating and poses a sinking hazard.
Vessel sank on 9/5/04. Initial fuel spill was contained by the Port. USCG had fuel spill cleaned up and additional fuel pumped off vessel. Boat was salvaged and removed from the water by the Port on 9/17/04. City of Tacoma keeps a watch on the vessels

At the request of the owner, the vessel was hauled out on 8/25/05 because it was taking on water. The owner made some overnight repairs. Despite the reluctance of the port staff, the vessel owner insisted that the port launch the vessel the next day. In accordance with the port tariff, the port commission voted to cancel the vessel's moorage because it did not appear to meet normal safety requirements. The owner was informed by phone and by letter to remove the vessel from the port's marina on or before 9/2/05. The owner failed to remove the vessel from the port. On 9/19/05 the port commission voted to proceed to obtain custody of the vessel under the Derelict Vessels Act.

DOE responded and removed gas, oil, antifreeze and batteries and reported vessel to DNR.

Vessel sunk and raised

See ERTS#546966. Ecology removed 300 gallons of oily water and fuel, boomed vessel and reported it to DNR.

Pierce County removed this vessel from their property, not as part of DVRP

This vessel was posted by Pierce County on their Chambers creek property but the vessel and the log it was tied to repeatedly floated away to other beaches. The USCG eventually picked it up and towed it to a marina where it stayed until PC destroyed it.

On Sept 19, 2007 received a report from . They own the property next to the boat ramp. She was reporting on the derelict vessels and the trimaran was listing. On 10/8/07 received report from T trimaran has been pumped out recently.

Vessel stripped and abandoned at Fox Island boat ramp. Became adrift. Tacoma fire dept rescued from Rich Passage and tied to private bulkhead.

On 10/8/07 (b) (6) reported that it looked like the Hobo was starting to sink.

Viewed Dec 1 2003. (b) (6) vessel
Nav hazard to water skiers, jetskis or small craft. Unmarked. Sunken vessel, exposed at extreme lows, might be a nav risk to pleasure craft at low tides when not exposed.	03-05
DNR conducted emergency removal on 3/17/05.	05-07
Vessel sunk while tied to city dock. Minor fuel and oil spill. Boat raised, removed and impounded to private storage yard.	03-05
Owner, (b) (6) was delegated w/ removing boat. (b) (6) is also one of the boat owners of the Hauf flotilla. Several contacts made w/ (b) (6) through March and April '05. Vessel deteriorating and emergency removal seems appropriate as of 4/12/05.	05-07
Letter sent to registered owner on 7/5/05. Returned on 7/18/05, no such address.
Removed by marina boat owners and disposed of at landfill per conversation w/ (b) (6) (4/25/06).
Vessel has been in current location continuously since May 3, 2006. Pre-custody letter sent 6/16/06. Vessel owner contacted DVRP to inform that he was waiting for a boatyard space to have a marine survey conducted. Survey is a condition of approval to move into a marina (Sunnfjord). (b) (6) has already conducted an inwater survey.	09-11	4

	07-09	3
Vessel stripped of engine, outdrive, batteries, WN #s and hull id #. Plywood covering hole in transom where missing outdrive located. Plywood also had a hole in it.	07-09	2
The vessel is listing due to excessive water inside. It has another vessel of same size tied to it. It is unknown whether either boat has fuel or oil on board.	07-09	3
Vessel does not operate on it's own propulsion. Each wind storm it has broken from it's mooring buoy and drifts. The owner of the vessel retrieves it and puts it back on buoy. With each storm it sits lower in the water.	07-09	3 vessel sank at Eagle Harbor linear moorage in Sept 2011. updated priority from 3E to 1D

Ecology responded when the boat was sinking. The boat is reported to have been pumped of fuel, but this needs to be confirmed

Closed

Vessel is at anchor. Neighbor reported it to be low in water. Couldn't verify with Pierce County sherriff or fire. DNR hired Port of Oly to pump it off. No WN #s posted on boat, no HIN. Only '07 registration sticker with (b) (6).

Vessel was tied to their dock and left. Formerly owned by Duc's Inc. Vessel was sold at auction by Pierce County.

Vessel partially sunk and was adrift. Fire dept. anchored it to keep it out of the navigation channel.

Vessel was reported abandoned on a buoy at the park. Displaying (b) (6) but HIN matched (b) (6)

Sailboat owner is elderly and suffers from dementia. Son does not have title. Vessel is at the marina on the end slip. Marina is planning to auction for nonpayment if we don't remove first. Assessment by Ron Holcolmb at Ecology determined that no fuel is in the tanks. Bilge has lots of water with small amount of fuel on top. Marina said they could pump off water and dispose of it ~50 gallons.

The boat has been moored to a buoy just to the north of the Longbranch Marina. During a wind storm on December 7, 2007 it drug it's anchor and is now in front of the Westlin home. It seems to be stuck in current location. Homeowner fears that another windstorm may cause it to drag further.	07-09	3

The boat has been around the harbor for a while and has been beached on the county side for a couple of weeks. DNR sent pre-custody letter to owner, (b) (6). He called on 3-3-08 and says he will get the boat off of the beach by the weekend. His number is .	11-13	2
Boat sinking off of Raft Island in Pierce County. Pierce County was going to pull and didn't. Vessel went adrift and ended up sunk. USCG raised the vessel & pumped 300 gallons gas & water off. Vessel has been abandoned in Gig Harbor	09-11	6
19 ft. Searay powerboat abandoned at the NE dock of McNeil Island. Reported to USCG by the fire dept. on 2/15/2012. Spoke with firefighter Mark McFarland and he stated that all the identification markings had been removed and that the engine was missing. Chief Sanders will have the vessel removed from the water and hold for custody period.	11-13	3
A 1962 Fairliner 27-foot ((b) (6)) and HIN ((b) (6)) named "Contessa" had been anchored in Gig Harbor since summer (pre-July). In late November, it showed up at our city dock and has been there ever since. We have logged it there continuously since November 26th and it is now chained to the dock for violation of our overtime moorage ordinance. The registration comes back to: Mountainside Holdings LLC PO Box 275 Index, WA 98126 We did a little bit of investigating and one of our officers obtained a phone number for someone associated with that PO Box. He called and spoke with someone (Asian language barrier) who said that Mountainside Holdings was the company of a guy who lived in the woods next to him. He literally yelled into the woods and the guy came out to speak with our officer on the phone. He disavowed ever owning a boat and had no idea what our officer was talking about. We have mailed a registered letter to that PO Box, but have not received any confirmation that it has been delivered. The Secretary of State has no record of Mountainside Holdings LLC. The problem is that it has been slowly taking on water. I have pumped it out twice over the past three weeks. I can keep up with that long enough to take us through the derelict boat seizure process, but I just wanted to get your graces that we can use that process to eventually get rid of the boat. My guess is that it is likely nobody bids on the boat because the engines have been underwater twice.

Boom off, pump out of fluids

Notice of Federal Interest issued by USCG, Natural Resource Damage Assessment and Penalty by Ecology pending.

USCG responded to vessel listing heavily to port and sheening fuel. Vessel was sinking, probably due to neglect & sea/rainwater infiltration. They pumped off and towed. DNR had it hauled out at North Harbor Diesel & Yacht.

vessel was tied to a mooring buoy for about a month, then sank, described as a commercial gill netter type vessel

Bow line wore thru - now in Friday Harbor. Vessel was sold by SJC for $1200

Cost recovery satisfied from settlement agreement. Case Closed 7/3/2012.

A-1 Marine towed to Friday Harbor after vessel went aground. Previous e-file update 10/7/2007

Vessel sunk during windstorm, most debris washed ashore. Engine and some parts underwater at Summer Point.

SJC puled it out of the water and is now at Deer Harbor boat yard.

Vessel went adrift and beached in windstorm over the weekend. Owner gave the vessel away but didn't transfer title. New guy is trying to remove vessel but doesn't have many resources. Registered owner will pay for disposal of the vessel.

We went there last night when he was suppose to be working on it and he wasn,t there. We spent about 5 hours getting it ready to float this morning and we will be down there at 7:30. to start again. We will have it off of the beach by noon today.

Vessel was raised after sinking and towed to shallow water where it now sits on the bottom per 1/26/07 site visit.4/4/07	07-09	4

Removed from location, demo'd, and sent to landfill

Top of mast reported to be within 6' to 8' of water surface at high tide, close to surface at low tide. Snared an anchor line – could hit keels. Is resting at 60 degree angle. Owner not remembered by locals. Reported by Deer Harbor Boat Works. It is on the side of the harbor and so not a usual route for boats. However, it had a fatal attraction for the boat which got its anchor line tangled up in it yesterday. Not a good hazard to have in a popular harbor.	11-13	8
On illegal float, covered with junk. Dinghy sank last night with 7 huge cushions +. Windows open and boat open to weather and filled with junk. Been moored illegally for several years - no response all summer to writing owner. All seems to be slowly sinking. Won't last the winter. materials in cabin, windows and door open, squatters have used and added junk, float disintegrating, dinghy sunk and dumped flotsam in water.	11-13	8
	11-13	8
We had a sailboat sink in Deer Harbor last month, but the owner was available and, after arguing about its necessity, said he would bring up the boat. So I have not sent in a Vessel Report on it (23' sailboat in 30' of water). But the guy keeps arguing and saying he can't get to it until January and wants to not spend any money on it, because we are all trying to make money off of him. So I'm thinking I should just go ahead and report the vessel, get a number and then if he does not follow through, I will have authority to take it. This might give him incentive to do it also.	11-13	8
Floated in, dragged ashore by residents. Boat is wrecked from its journey. No fluids aboard.	13-15	1

Attempts to locate owners unsuccessful

Port took custody of it and sold for $1

USCG called Sheriff's Dept who anchored vessel, which was still dragging and drifting. USCG called DNR.

This vessel was removed from a moorage location after the port pumped the vessel and it still showed signs of listing. The hull was in very rough shape with numerous holes visible above the water line. We were unable to reach the registered owner. Mail was returned and phone was disconnected.

Boat towed into Port with hole in it.

removed as public nuisance/debris removal, not DVA

I understand that this boat drifted into Port Susan Bay sometime between July 12-24, 2010. Boat is capsized and is a hazard to boaters when tide is high. Engine or generator is outside of the boat and believe a battery is submersed in the mud.

Olympia took custody, hauled out. Owner paid accrued fees ($1100), regained custody,, hired to tow him to Sangel Cove. In wind storm the vessel broke free.

vessel was there with owner's permission but now land owner has died and property is for sale.

Port of Oly towed the sunk & leaking vessel to Swantown Boatworks and hauled it out Vessel is adrift in Lake St. Clair, Ecology responded but boat did not have fuel aboard. Thurston County is not interested in taking care of it. It had drifted away by the next day when I got there.

First Incident:said they escorted the Sea Nagg out of Budd Inlet on 5/31/07.

Second Incident: DNR had the Port of Olympia tow the vessel to swantown where it was pulled out.

Vessel is on top of Kopcakoe.

DNR had vessel towed to Swantown till Custody date then disposed of at the Lacey Landfill. Case closed.

Vessel was reported to be abandoned. Homeowner tied the adrift vessel to her dock then moved it to her buoy so it wouldn't ground out. Boat reported to be moved from buoy to buoy by area residents. Owner rumored to be in Colorado. Could not confirm in Accurint. DESTROYED

Port of Olympia took possession of this vessel under Port statutes and is now interested in reimbursement

Owner is. Boat has valid reg. Vessel is anchored very close to channel for city of Olympia Percival Landing moorage facilities and Yacht Club. Vessel has been anchored in the same location for more than four years without permission. Vessel has been posted and owner notified by certified mail that custody of vessel will be taken by the City on July 15, 2006 unless owner removes the vessel.	05-07
Vessel was previously in Commencement Bay but was moved against USCG orders to Totten Inlet	07-09	6
DNR had vessel removed and disposed of. Four people with ownship interest were identified and billed.	07-09	1
Second incident: The vessel has been beached for 2 weeks on it's side with the mast in a tree. The tides have been low and so the vessel hasn't moved, it is feared that during high tide it will float away in the night and bring harm to Boston Harbor Marina. Third incident: vessel was abandoned at Swantown Boatworks and destroyed by Port.	07-09	4
	07-09	1
Vessel was tied to Kopcakoe and had two unsecured ~50 gallon drums of petroleum product on board	07-09	1
This vessel was drifting in Case Inlet and towed by (b) (6) to Joemma Beach Park docks. Ran HIN and found that the vessel was last registered in 2002. Last known Owner on registration is: (b) (6) Grapeview, WA 98546-6646. Found a phone number (b) (6) only to discover it has been disconnected. Posting vessel on 16NOV12. Only number was the HIN (vessel ID)
Prior to incident (previous week) Melissa tried calling owner but was not able to match up phone number with address. On 12/4/07 vessel was reported to be sinking with 6" of freeboard left after several days of heavy rain. DNR hired Osbourne Marine Services to pump off vessel.	07-09	3

Bruce Marshal with the help of Osborn Marine raised the vessel and towed it to Port of Olympia. It is currently in dry storage at Port of Olympia Swantown.

DNR had Bruce Marshall tow the vessel in and hauled out because it was adrift Vessel was evicted from a marina in Olympia. Vessel's engine is missing and outdrive area is patched with plywood. Vessel takes on water. Owner reportedly has rowed out to it from Swantown to pump it off using a dingy with one oar. Ecology boarded the vessel but did not find fuel. . Vessel went aground at (b) (6) on 5/21/09.phoned DNR land manager.

Vessel abandoned in Port of Olympia. Owner was fixing but ran out of money.

Vessel is on DNR leasehold. Evicted from West Bay Marina.

Port of Olympia and Osborne Marine both tended to the vessel and towed it to Olympia and hauled it out of the water.

DNR had port of Olympia staff check on vessel after reports of vessel being bow-down and full of water

Port hauled vessel out of water, stored, removed haz mat, demolished vessel and hauled away debris.

Referred to collections 7/10/2012, case closed called on 4-15-13 to notify us of the 16-foot Bayliner (white with a blue-stripe) that is on Black River, approx 1/2 mile from the boat launch at 1500 Littlerock Rd. The boat has no WN #, no motor and has been completely stripped. It has drifted into a beaver dam around the bend from the boat launch. An IIR was filed on 4/8/13. A man named Rob, who owns Black River Canoe, and gives canoe trips near the boat launch knows where the boat is.	13-15	1

Vessel has no registration displayed or any kind of identifying mark. It does have a metal tag on the inboard stern with the model # V-21 and serial # 677 affixed. Vessel appears to be 10-12ft Capri Dayrunner. Coordinates are estimated	13-15	1

Surveyed vessel - derelict; customer filed bankruptcy; vessel given to the Port to haul out & destroy. No value. DESTROYED

Port took custody. DESTROYED

DNR sent pre-custody letter on 2/16/06. Joint inspection by USCG, DNR, Ecology on 3/1/06. USCG to send Admin. Order. DESTROYED vessel abandoned; customer filed bankruptcy; attempted to auction vessel--no sale, no value seized by port of Bellingham, Blaine Harbor for lack of payment.

Vessel was reportedly sunk in 1980s with pilot house coming off in 1990s. Was marked with pilings inadvertently pulled by DNR contractor to Creosote removal program in 2009.

Vessel washed ashore. Completely stripped. No id, no engines. On the DNR Aquatic Reserve.

Owner signed vessel over to Port. Due to hull condition Port decided to have it hauled out and destroyed. Vessel was unseaworthy and was unable to get insurance.	05-07
Vessel abandoned, seized for non-payment of moorage. In danger of sinking - constant monitoring by Port. Hauled out of water and stored to attempt sale. Vessel did not sell and deemed surplus by Port. Destroyed by 5/9/05.	05-07
The vessel is in a state waterway behind a breakwater. It is not in the way of anything and is sitting on the bottom by some pilings. According to Mike Endsley there does not seem to be any fuel leaking. The owner is trying to raise the vessel (as of the week of 10/17-21). Vessel reported increased list and new sheening on 4/3/06.	05-07	7
vessel was removed within the harbor by the nearest shipyard that destroyed and disposed of the vessel. Vessel owner was Friday Simmons	05-07
Owner, left the vessel and failed to pay for moorage. Vessel was seized by Port for non-payment of moorage. Vessel had tanks pumped out due to nearly sinking on various occasions. All attempts to contact the owner have failed due to bad contact information. Vessel was not sold at public auction and is now being hauled out of the water to be destroyed.	05-07
Vessel is in disrepair. Listing 8 degrees to starboard but only 6 inches of water in bilge. Vessel is littered with trash but operational according to owner. Owner is	05-07	7
vessel currently is secured to the docks awaiting removal, destruction & disposal	05-07	5

Vessel was sunk in Columbia River. EPA and Ecology attempted to raise to remove fuel but the vessel rolled over. Vessel was later raised by Ecology contractor and DNR took over to have the vessel lifted out of the water and placed on the Port of Pasco dock.

Marine Assist of Port Hadlock removed the boat from Hood Canal in Belfair on 10/11/13. They will haul in on a trailer to Swantown Marina in Olympia. WN #'s were found and owner located through Accruint.

Alex and I ran into a couple of City of Bellingham Parks and Rec workers last week out on the Cornwall Avenue Landfill site. They were trying to get the registration numbers off of the boat that washed up on the shore. I told them that we had notified the Squalicum Harbormaster Chris Tibbe about the boat a while back and he was going to try to notify the owner. I also told the Parks guys that I would follow up with Chris to see what he knows. The Harbor was able to look up the registration number ((b) (6)) and it came up with the person on the attached word document. Apparently the harbor called (b) and was told that he had sold the boat. I don't know what more we can do from our end and would suggest that we pass on the information to the City so they can pursue it further.	11-13	8
Vessel adrift. Many reports to USCG	13-15	1
closest address is 22480 SE 296th St to the right off the boat launch. Reachable from shore with waders. Vessel was reported as completely stripped. No engine, no gas tanks.	13-15	1
The 16 foot abandoned hobie cat sail boat that we reported previously is no longer securely anchored, it has traveled to the kayak access at the end of Rosedale St NW, Lay inlet, right by (b) (6) and is getting caught sporadically on rocks. When the tide is out it is sitting on the beach partially blocking the access, when the tide comes in it is coming very close to hitting our boat house. Children were playing on it yesterday and using it as a diving board, not realizing that it is not well secured.	13-15	1
Please advise what can be done to solve the problem? If necessary we can remove it, if we have the time before it floats away or closer still. I hate to see it just float away and cause damage.
No WN #, no Registration. sunken yet drifting about. Covered in moss and at approach to boat works dock and boat ramp.	13-15	2

48 19.979N 122 31.228W Vessel was reported adrift off Strawberry Point. Registration numbers displayed are old. Vessel is reported as trashed inside with seized engines. Reported that it may have previously been aground on mud.	13-15	2
Ecyology reports a partially submerged 20-25ft runabout tied to a buoy. We have no name or numbers but the Port of Alyn reports that it may belong to . Ran his name through the data DOL IVIPs data base and he does own several vessels. ECY will be visiting his address to see if he is indeed the owner.	13-15	2
